IDG Nederland

INNER DEVELOPMENT GOALS

Transformational Skills for Sustainable Development

Our desire

With the SDGs, we want to move toward a social and just society and to get there, it first requires attention to the Inner Development Goals; from inner growth to outer change.

Change starts from within

What we do

The network group Learning & Development IDG Netherlands collects learning, development and communication materials focused on the IDGs and makes them available. We also develop or commission IDG materials ourselves. These materials are open source, practical and directly applicable.

We focus first on the general materials; 'what are the IDGs and how can you apply the framework'.

Our ambition

We contribute to the deepening, dissemination and practical application of IDG thinking. We make resources of inspiration, information, materials and learning resources about the IDGs available on an easily findable and accessible platform. We do this for education, businesses, organizations, groups and individuals. The community knows where to find us, uses the Communication and Learning Materials and provides feedback on user experience.

Our responsibility – Open source

The IDG organization was set up with open source in mind. With this in mind, all IDG information can be freely downloaded and used. Open source is a two-way street; users are asked to share the materials they have enriched and make them available on the platform. Our belief is: sharing is letting go and from there being allowed to receive again.

As a network group, we are responsible for collecting, translating, developing and making available effective (learning) materials. We ensure that our resources are current and relevant to the needs of the IDG Community in the Netherlands.

Highlighting our subtasks:

- Collection/translation of materials:

We know what materials are available. We have an overview of the materials that have been or can be translated into Dutch. We know who are (or have been) involved in the translation into Dutch.

- Making materials accessible:

We ensure that all materials are easily accessible to the IDG community. The materials are arranged by topic. Everyone knows how to find and use the materials for Communication and L&D purposes.

- Developing materials:

We develop learning and communication materials that can be used at IDG events.

- Further development of materials:

Users of the (open source) materials feedback user experience and provide (used) enriched content. We make this enriched content available again.

Our focus is on providing accessible overviews of existing materials and identifying areas where new developments are needed.
